

Meet Karma Wilson:

Karma Wilson, author of Bear Feels Sick is a very busy person. She has written over 30 children's books, has appeared on the New York Times Best Sellers list and has won the Oppenheim Toy Platinum Award, and an ALA Notable Children's Book.

Daughter of a writer, Wilson didn't start writing herself until after she had three children of her own. She writes in rhyme "because I think that well written rhyme naturally teaches children to expand their vocabulary and love books and reading."

Wilson lives with her family in the wilds of North Idaho where she spends her time writing, reading, working on Martial Arts, and taking pictures. Look at some of Wilson's photography at www.karmawilsonphotography.com.
